

The ACA Education Committee Presents the 2010 Claims Convention – Mock Trial

Don't miss out on this great annual educational event. This year our case is a little different than the usual car wreck or slip and fall case, as we present a "ripped from the headlines" (sort of) trial to keep you on the edges of your seats.

This year's trial is based on an actual, but perhaps exaggerated, fact pattern which was recently tried in Federal Court. We will be presenting a personal injury case which also involves a workers' compensation component, a subrogation lien, loss of consortium, medical narratives, and impeachment documents. We will also address some of the technical trends used in trying cases today by showcasing some of the newer courtroom technology.

We invite you to come and join the Education Committee, along with actors/attorneys Thomas O. Sippel, from the law firms of Leitner, Williams, Dooley & Napolitan, PLLC, and Marc H. Bardack, from Bovis, Kyle & Burch, LLC, for a fun and educational experience. Six continuing education credits will be awarded for adjusters and six CLE credits will also be available for attorneys.
